

6th Annual First Responders Appreciation Night

Each and every day, men and women in our area put their lives before others in the line of duty. More than 250 first responders, medical personnel of any type, and family members of our community are expected to attend this event. This year, we would like to extend this event to all medical employees that have and continue to put their lives on the line during this pandemic. This opportunity is a way to show them that our community appreciates their hard work and sacrifice they provide to keep our community safe. A meal will be provided at no charge to the first responders and their families. Emergency vehicles will be on display, informational booths, music, and fireworks! This is a community wide event
